To Whom It May Concern,

This is to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Brian Honigman for the great lecture he volunteered to give to the Palestinian media practitioners participating in the 2015 United Nations Training Programme for Palestinian Journalists, on Monday, 16 November 2015. The lecture focused on the new tools and technologies in the world of digital journalism and social media.

Mr. Honigman was able to provide a very good overview on the subject matter, suggest very useful tips, and engage the group in an interactive discussion.

His extensive experience in social media and digital journalism, coupled with his ability to present the knowledge in a simple and interesting way, produced one of the most memorable lectures for this year's training programme. The journalists said they had really enjoyed it and learnt a great deal.

We thank him for your support and we look forward for his further engagement with our activities.
